HOPES REVIVED

Of the Agricultural Situation.

1.ONDON, April 6 The Standard today publishes a review of the agricultural outlook, in the course of which It says that the steady rise in wheat revives the hopes of the English farmers, adding that wheat will probably reach the highest price in many years.

The principal cause of the rise is the failure of the foreign crops.

The wheat crops of France and Russia, according to the Standard, are much below the average, and the deficiency will be at least 20,000,000 quarters.

Help yoursaft if you're a suffering woman, with the medicine that's been prepared especially to help you—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Pre-cription. It will do it where others fail. For all the discases peculiar to the sex-dragging-down pains, displacements, and other weaknesses, it's a positive remedy. It means a new life, and a longer one, for every delicate woman. In every tease for which it's recommended, it gives satisfaction. It's means to do so, or the money is referred. refunded.

It improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces re-freshing sleep, dispels melanchely and nervousness, and builds up both flesh and strength. It is a legiti-mate medicine—not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to sour or ferment in the stomach and cause distress. As peculiar in its mar-velous, remedial results as in its composition. Therefore, don't be put off with some worthless compound easily, but dishonestly, recommended to be "just as good." Stevens magnet lead Floy laughed and admitted that she did too. "It's like the 'Arabian Nights," she cried aloud. "I believe the 'Old Man' is really a what-d'-you-call-'em-a genie, is really a what-dryout-carreting grain and that Mr. Stevens has a ring or a pitcher somewhere that he rubs slyly. Then the genie comes running up and says: 'What do you want this time, Mr. Stevens?' and he says: 'Well, bring me a picnic to Baltimore for six'—and there

The group laughed at this fanciful picture, and henceforth the "Old Man" became a genie, while Floy dubbed Mr. Stevens Aladdin. Evidently, he Lad ceased to be, in her eyes, simply I ke everybody else.

There is, says Sir Andrew Clark, growing up in the nursing world a habit of having far too frequent meals in the day and far too much variety at them. Meals should not be multiplied in the way they now are. The plan of having tes before breakfust, lunch at 11 o'clock, then digner, tea again in the afternoon and gapper at night is about the worst plan when the adapter. noursain. Women have but one notion about food, and that is that the oftener they ent and the more raried the food the latter they will be. This is a mistake. Having three simple meads of plain, nourishing food, and nothing between them, is the best way of sustaining the health and of supporting the body. The diet of twenty-five years ago, when nurses had plain bread and butter for breakfast at half-mast 6, a dimor consisting of a joint at half-past 6, a dinner consisting of a joint at I, and a cold meat supper, was much at 1, and a cold meat supper, was much anors fitting for the maintaine of health and the support of the working powers than the diet of the present day. Children should be well fed. Some are everfed, but for more are underfed. They should be fed on abandance of bread, milk, eggs, rice, barley, and outmed in every form—Mall's Johrnal of Health.

Danger in Wearing Rubbers. A chiropolist says. Since the atrocus became so muddy I have had a number of sufferers apply to me for relief. If a man has a corn I can take it out and relieve him, but if he is suffering from what I call "rabber feve." I can't help him and can only prescribe liberal foot bathing, and a removal of the cause of tile trouble. Rubbers should only be worn to keep wet out, and they should be removed the moment the wearer gets indoors. Failure to note this gives a man wet feet in a f.e. worse sensethan if he had waded through mud and deep. It was the trouble resulting from forcing the perspiration to seak the stockings and keep the feet perpetually damp that drove rubber soled boots out of the market. Even loose rubbers are a source of kanger and the cause of many more serious colds than they avert. St. Louis Globe-Democrat Danger in Wearing Emblers.

Love for the Sea.

I stopped on the rear platform of a breet har the other day to talk with the conductor, a fair faced, gray bearded Norseman, whose respectful yet dignified manner was pacticularly attractive. He told my that his work kept him busy from 4 in the afternoon to midnight. "What do you do alday:" I asked. "As often as anything cise," said he, "I go down to the wharves to see the ships. I was a sea captain for twenty-five years, and I love the sound of the waves and the smell of threed rope." An Elegant and Costly Room.

It remains for a Clevelander, Samuel Andrews, to secure the distinction of having a room in what is thought by judges to be the finest example of Loais XVI decoration in this country. We tie cost does not always indicate character, some idea may be had from the fact that the bill called for $55,000. It is in cream and gold, lit by sixty-two electric lights, the ceiling in paper-mache relief work, peinted with flowers and cupids; the maintes are of solid only, seting gold and vory; cream and gold furniture of white cedar enameled and inhaid—everything on this extravagant order.—Upholsterer.

Rissing with Tongues. Rissing with Tongues.

It may perhaps, be suggested that one reason for the very long delay in the practice of the mutual kies was in the general use by one or both of the sexes of noss rings or labrets, either of which would prevent the approximation requisits. If such use be not admitted as a cause sufficient, it at least afforce widence that the kies was not customary among the people by whom nose rings and labrets wore wear. Then for a time they sank on the easy chairs or loanges and enjoyed the simpl chairs of monges and enjoyed the simple sense of motion—smooth, swift and silent. There is a vast amount of needless suffer ng in Bangor at this season of the year. Powerty is not the solo cause. There is as lout a vry for relief in the families of the wealthy as in the homes of the poor.

Where is the cause?

It is in the changeable weather, that makes our blood flow sluggishly through the venture in the over-work and worry that weakens the norvous system; and in the vanous causes that bring on dyspepsia, headaches, and tired feelings.

What will result?

"here can be but one answer. Each succeeding spring sees many yield more reality to the disease bearing effects of the change from winter. And the recovery has been slower each year. The sadness of spirit, dejection, specks before the eyes, paipitation of the heart, headache and backache, debility and prostration, rheumaths and neuralgle pains, poor appetite, coated tongue, and tired and worn out feeling,—all these come with greater sevelity as one grows older. The increased deals rate of the spring months needs no comment of ours.

What can be done?

I ather, let us ask, what is being done in this city? In a drug store where our reporter inquired, he was told that probably hat of the people in Bangor used medicine in March or April, some on a physician's prescription, while others selected some advertised remedy.

"What is the most popular?" asked our young man.

"What is the most popula ("" asked our young man.
"Well, it used to be sarssparilias, but this year it is Palue's Celery Compound, which not only equitains asrasparilia, but in saldition nerve strengtheners and brain invigorants, such as celery, hops and other herbe. This shows, of course, that our people are using their brains more than ther used to, and need for a spring medicine something beyond an ordinary sarsapar lin or bitters."

".an you tell me of any one who is using par l'a or bitters."

"Jan you tell me of any ong who is using this Compound?" asked the reporter, anxious to investigate the matter thor-this Compound?" asked the reporter, anxious to investigate the matter thoroughly.

"I could, for I know of several, but I am afraid they would object to the publicity. Here, however, is something about as good for I can vouch for its truthfulness myself." Torping to the shelf, belook down a prekage of the Compound, and opening it, tractosed a circular around the neck of the battle. "Now here's a printed letter from Hurley Sherman, 55 Film street, Burlington, Vt. He has written: For a long time I was so nervous and worn out that I could not work. I tried many medicing to but none gave me any relief until I they needed no pressing to attack.

But just then they noticed the speed of the train was slackened and the rattle of switches and the dancing lights fold them that they were nearing Baltimore.

"Hurry up, good people?" cried Sophia.
"We mustn't lose this lunch."

the party found occupation in looking out and down on the anxious, hurrying people, till a pert little bantam locomotive came fuming up behind and drew the car away from the train and to and fro across the switches till it was snugly deposited on a siding. Here, beyond the noise and rush of trade, lunch was fusished, and an hour of waiting "killed" by an aphilition of card tricks by Mr. by an exhibition of card tricks by Mr. Quire, most of them ancient enough to have been invented by Noah to relieve the tedium of those forty rainy evenings in the ark, but still fresh and bewilder
